Indicate when students are formally admitted into your initial teacher certification program:

Sophomore year

Does your initial teacher certification program conditionally admit students? Yes

Please provide any additional about or exceptions to the admissions information provided above:

1. Education students apply in their 4th semester in anticipation of becoming Juniors the next semester, after 60 credits.
2. All requirements must be met before becoming a Junior.
3. The GPA 3.00 requirement must be achieved after 60 credits before reaching Junior status.
4. If the student is mathematically close to a 3.00 when becoming a Junior, acceptance into the program is held off one semester to see if the 3.00 is achieved. If so, full acceptance. If not, no education methods courses may be taken until the 3.00 is reached and that student is not placed in a field experience.

5. Recommendations for admittance are made by three non-education faculty, the college's Director of Student Life, and after an interview with the education faculty.

Section 1.b Program Enrollment

Provide the number of students in the teacher preparation program in the following categories. Note that you must report on the number of students by ethnicity and race separately. Individuals who are non-Hispanic/Latino will be reported in one of the race categories. Also note that individuals can belong to one or more racial groups, so the sum of the members of each racial category may not necessarily add up to the total number of students enrolled.

Total number of students enrolled in 2010-11:	58
Unduplicated number of males enrolled in 2010-11:	7

Average number of clock hours required for student teaching	525
Number of full-time equivalent faculty in supervised clinical experience during this academic year	5
Number of full-time equivalent adjunct faculty in supervised clinical experience during this academic year (THE and PreK-12 staff)	0
Number of students in supervised clinical experience during this academic year	65

Please provide any additional information about or descriptions of the supervised clinical experiences:

Section 1.d Teachers Prepared by Subject Area

Please provide the number of teachers prepared by subject area for academic year 2010-11. For the purposes of this section, number prepared means the number of program completers. "Subject area" refers to the subject area(s) an individual has been prepared to teach. An individual can be counted in more than one subject area. If no individuals were prepared in a particular subject area, please leave that cell blank. (§205(b)(1)(H))

Section I.e Program Completers

Provide the total number of initial teacher certification preparation program completers in each of the following academic years:

- 2010-11: 23
- 2009-10: 24
- 2008-09: 28

Section II. Annual Goals

Each institution of higher education (IHE) that conducts a traditional teacher preparation program (including programs that offer any ongoing professional development programs) or alternative routes to state certification or licensure program, and that enrolls students receiving Federal assistance under this Act, shall set annual quantifiable goals for increasing the number of prospective teachers trained in teacher shortage areas designated by the Secretary or by the state educational agency, including mathematics, science, special education, and instruction of limited English proficient students. IHEs that do not have a teacher preparation program in one or more of the areas listed below can enter NA for the area(s) in which the IHE does not have that program.

	necessary revisions.
	Description of steps to improve performance in meeting goal or lessons learned in meeting goal:
	1. Seek more collaboration from the college's arts and sciences depart, especially with the English faculty.
	2. Stricter adherence to the inclusion of academic standards within course syllabi.
	3. Approval anticipated in the 2011-12 school year.

Provide any additional comments, exceptions and explanations below:

Section II. Assurances

Please indicate whether your institution is in compliance with the following assurances.

Training provided to prospective teachers responds to the identified needs of the local educational agencies or States where the institution's graduates are likely to teach, based on past hiring and recruitment trends.

Yes

Training provided to prospective teachers is closely linked with the needs of schools and the instructional decisions new teachers face in the classroom.

Yes

Prospective special education teachers receive coursework in core academic subjects and receive training in providing instruction in core academic subjects.

NA

General education teachers receive training in providing instruction to children with disabilities.

Yes

General education teachers receive training in providing instruction to limited English proficient students.

Yes

General education teachers receive training in providing instruction to children from low-income families.

Yes

Prospective teachers receive training on how to effectively teach in urban and rural schools, as applicable.

Yes

Describe your institution's most successful strategies in meeting the assurances listed above:

The following specific courses do address the items checked above: Multicultural Education, Introduction to Exceptionalities, Methods of Teaching ELL, and Inclusion and Collaboration. In addition, parts of early childhood education and elementary education courses address issues such as instructional decisions teacher candidates will face in the classroom, working with children with diverse needs, individualizing instruction for ESL and ELL children, assisting children and their families of low income, and providing experiences, including student teaching, in both rural and urban areas. During the student teaching semester, the above issues are discussed in the student teaching seminar as well because student teachers face these challenges in their cooperating schools.

General education teachers receive training in working with students who have disabilities, limited income an limited English proficiency by an education professor who is assigned to assist students who have diagnosed learning disabilities and other situations which would hamper learning. In addition that instructor also is in consistent contact with faculty of students who have come to the college with IEPs.

Through the various field experiences and methods courses, students are instructed to effectively teach in rural and urban schools.

Section IV. Low-Performing

Provide the following information about the approval or accreditation of your teacher preparation program.

Is your teacher preparation program currently approved or accredited?

Yes

If yes, please specify the organization(s) that approved or accredited your program:

State

Is your teacher preparation program currently under a designation as "low-performing" by the state (as per section 207(a) of the HEA of 2008)?

No

Section V. Technology

Does your program prepare teachers to:

- integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction
Yes
- use technology effectively to collect data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to manage data to improve teaching and learning
Yes
- use technology effectively to analyze data to improve teaching and learning
Yes

Provide a description of how your program prepares teachers to integrate technology effectively into curricula and instruction, and to use technology effectively to collect, manage, and analyze data in order to improve teaching and learning for the purpose of increasing student academic achievement. Include a description of how your program prepares teachers to use the principles of universal design for learning, as applicable. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the four elements listed above are not currently in place.

In their Sophomore year, all teacher candidates enroll in Educational Technology. This 3-credit course provides an in-depth examination of technology used in the educational setting. Included are digital media applications, along with projected, non-projected, and audio media. The integration of media into the lesson planning process is a crucial component of the course.

In addition, all teaching methods courses within the early childhood and elementary programs include in course syllabi a portion of instruction in which teacher candidates are taught to collect and manage data from various forms of assessments and how to analyze that data to improve planning and presentations.

Section VI. Teacher Training

Does your program prepare general education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively
Yes
- participate as a member of individualized education program teams
Yes
- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively
Yes

Provide a description of how your program prepares general education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

All teacher candidates Early Childhood, Elementary, and Music Education, must enroll in four specific courses that address the above teacher training components. In the Sophomore year, students enroll in Introduction to Exceptionalities. This 3-credit course provides an overview of the basic characteristics and unique life and educational needs of individuals who have been determined to be exceptional in mental, physical, and/or emotional characteristics. Topics of study include but are not limited to: learning disabilities, mental impairment, emotional and/or behavioral disorders, mental health disorders and multiple and severe disabilities. Emphasis is placed upon understanding differences from a biblical perspective. This course is a pre-requisite for the second Special Education course.

This second course, Inclusion and Collaboration, is also a 3-credit course and is taken in the Junior or Senior year. It is an introduction to those educational and related services that are collectively known as "special education" in contemporary public schools and the inclusion of those students in the regular classroom. The IEP process is thoroughly examined as well as the classroom teacher's role on the IEP committee. A ten-hour observation during the field experience is required in a public school classroom in which a special needs student is enrolled.

The third 3-credit senior year course, Methods of Teaching ELL, is a course in bilingual/multicultural/ELL education. The course focuses on methods of developing lesson plans in language arts, science, math, social studies, music, and the arts for the English Language Learner. Components of curriculum content, teaching techniques, second language literacy, assessment, and development and evaluation of teaching materials are emphasized.

The fourth course, Multicultural Education, is senior-level course surveying the historical and political issues in the education of students from cultures, ethnicities, and races other than the dominant culture. It focuses on the assessment of curriculum and instructional methods for ethnic, racial, and cultural bias. The course is designed to enhance the necessary teaching skills to provide equal access and equal opportunity for all students in the educational setting, thereby developing multicultural competency in professional educators.

In addition, all methods courses include components to instruct the teacher candidates to provide lesson and presentation strategies for the special needs students that will undoubtedly be in the public school classrooms.

Does your program prepare special education teachers to:

- teach students with disabilities effectively

NA

- participate as a member of individualized education program teams

NA

- teach students who are limited English proficient effectively

NA

Provide a description of how your program prepares special education teachers to teach students with disabilities effectively, including training related to participation as a member of individualized education program teams, as defined in section 614(d)(1)(B) of the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, and to effectively teach students who are limited English proficient. Include planning activities and a timeline if any of the three elements listed above are not currently in place.

Section VII. Contextual Information

Please use this space to provide any additional information that describes your teacher preparation program(s). You may also attach information to this report card. The U.S. Department of Education is especially interested in any evaluation plans or interim or final reports that may be available.
